1 folder

Papers of the Thomas Mockbee and Elizabeth Ann (Eliza) Chiles Mockbee family. Includes letters, land deeds, bills of sale, documents and newspaper articles.

BIOGRAPHY:

Thomas Mockbee (1805-1864) and Elizabeth Ann Chiles (1816-1903), daughter of Richard Ballinger Chiles and Sarah Skinner Chiles, were married August 23, 1836. Their children were Sarah Jane, Cuthbert, Reuben, Franklin, Anna, Thomas, Kemp M., and James William.

On December 30, 1844, Mockbee purchased land around 78th and Holmes from Franklin Chiles, Elizabeth’s brother. Their original home, a small one-story stone house, was said to have been built by James H. Boone, grandson of Daniel Boone. It was later used as a hospital during the Civil War and the stone-based barn was used by General Jo Shelby’s artillery to defend the retreat of General Sterling Price into Arkansas after the Battle of Westport, October 23, 1864.

According to Civil War Pension records, Thomas Mockbee served with the B6 Kansas Cavalry. He was killed by guerrillas on February 22, 1864. His oldest son, Cuthbert continued to acquire land until the family owned all the land from Seventy-seventh to Eighty-fifth streets from Holmes to Broadway. The estate remained in the hands of the Mockbee family until 1945 when all but ten acres surrounding the historic site were sold.
