These are a “Ledger” and “Journal” of H. L. Rozier, a “private banker” in Ste. Genevieve, Missouri. Accounts indicate loans, payments, and other financial transactions.

A member of a prominent mercantile family in Ste. Genevieve, H. L. Rozier, in addition to other commercial activities, acted as a “private banker,” making loans to local firms and individuals. These related volumes list his transactions by account (“Ledger,” Volume 1) and chronologically (“Journal,” Volume 2). Included are Rozier’s personal and family expenses. He also invested in several mining enterprises, including ventures in Arizona, California, and Colorado. The ledger is indexed at the front of the volume.
