This is a booklet of timetables for July 1944 for Dixie Greyhound Lines, Inc., which operated in southeastern Missouri between St. Louis and Arkansas through Flat River, Farmington, Fredericktown, Jackson, Cape Girardeau, Sikeston, New Madrid, Portageville, Hayti, Caruthersville, and Steele.

This sixteen-page booklet includes 28 timetables. Timetable No. 17, on Page 6, details the service through southeastern Missouri.

Dixie Greyhound Lines, which had corporate headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee, was incorporated in 1931 and was affiliated with the national Greyhound Lines bus network. In June 1944 the company operated in Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Arkansas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, and Alabama. In Missouri the company operated between St. Louis and the Arkansas border, with continuing service through northeastern Arkansas to Memphis, Tennessee. Major stops in Missouri included Flat River, Fredericktown, Cape Girardeau, Sikeston, and New Madrid Junction.

In 1954 Dixie Greyhound Lines consolidated into Southeastern Greyhound Lines, which in turn consolidated into the Southern Division of the Greyhound Corporation in 1960.
