The records of the St. Louis Regional Fellowship of Reconciliation Records were donated to the Joint Collection of the Western Historical Manuscript Collection by Mrs. Roy Sommerer in August, 1976, and by Marion Weir in July, 1980.

The Fellowship, founded in 1915, is an interfaith society whose members share a commitment to seek resolution of international and inter-group conflicts by non-violent and reconciling, means.

Active in St. Louis from the mid-1930's, the St. Louis Regional Fellowship of Reconciliation was not formally organized until November, 1940, when a group of thirty FOR members and friends met at Eden Seminary. They organized the following year a Metropolitan Board for Counseling Conscientious Objectors and raised money to help Conscientious Objectors in Civilian Public Service Camps during World War II. During the war, the FOR helped in the relocation of Japanese-Americans who were evacuated from the West Coast following Pearl Harbor, opposed the conscription of women and the buying of defense bonds, and sponsored some European war refugees. The FOR and the Civil Liberties Union cooperated in 1941 in establishing an interracial committee which conducted a survey in 1943-44 on attitudes toward hiring black employees in St. Louis public utilities. FOR continued to work for better race relations in their campaign to obtain fair housing in the 1950's and 1960's. During the Korean conflict, the organization again offered draft counseling. Its main concern, however, was nuclear disarmament and peace. It opposed the resumption of atmospheric nuclear testing and the building of individual bomb shelters through a campaign called "shelters for the shelterless." FOR has also been active in mental health concerns and labor-management relations.
