Alberta Slavin donated her papers to the Western Historical Manuscript Collection in increments from November 22, 1977 to May 21, 1982. She has been active in consumer affairs and citizen campaigns since 1965 when she helped form Save Our Symphony (SOS), a campaign to keep the symphony in St. Louis. In 1967 she founded and headed Housewives Elect Lower Prices (HELP), a consumer advocate group that surveyed and published food prices in St. Louis area retail stores for nine years. The group also worked on legislation to ban non-returnable containers and participated in meat boycotts in April 1973.

In 1970 Alberta Slavin founded the Utility Consumers Council of Missouri (UCCM) and became its first president. UCCM helped make public utilities more responsive to complaints by publishing service errors and offering testimony at public hearings to curtail utility rate increases, a goal shared by Slavin in her unsuccessful campaign for lieutenant governor in 1976. In 1974, UCCM helped gain for consumers the right to use telephone equipment not manufactured by Southwestern Bell. Slavin resigned from UUCM in June 1977. From 1974-1976 Slavin served as national vice president of the National Consumers Congress, an association of consumer groups resulting from the 1973 meat boycotts. She also served as a member of the Consumer Affairs Advisory of the Federal Energy Administration from 1976 to 1980 and as president of the Committee for Environmental Information from 1972 to 1977.

In July 1977 Governor Joseph Teasdale appointed Slavin to the Missouri Public Service Committee. As a commissioner issues. She was appointed chair of the commission. As a commissioner, she worked to curb utility rate increases and championed pro-consumer issues. Slavin was appointed chair of the commission in 1979 and removed as chair by Governor Christopher Bond in January, 1981. She resigned shortly thereafter.

She was hired as a consumer editor and reporter by KMOX-TV.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Alberta Slavin's papers of 1965-1978 document her involvement with the Clayton School District, the Clayton sales tax controversy and other personal campaigns; the founding of Save Our Symphony; the work of Housewives Elect Lower Prices, the Utility Consumers Council of Missouri, and the National Consumers Congress; the 1976 Lieutenant Governor campaign and Slavin's term on the Missouri Public Service Commission.
Included with the collection are public reports, correspondence, speeches, histories, mailing lists, newsletters, press releases, questionnaires, survey sheets, tax and grant documents, public testimony, memoranda, publications, campaign literature, newsclippings, position papers, photographs, and statistical information.

The collection is divided into eight series: (1) personal files; (2) Save Our Symphony; (3) Housewives Elect Lower Prices; (4) Utility Consumers Council of Missouri; (5) National Consumers Congress; (6) Lieutenant Governor campaign; (7) Missouri Public Service Commission; (8) Tapes.
