Dr. Rawick donated his papers to the University Archives on October 5, 1989.

Dr. Rawick was an author, teacher and political activist. He was best known for his research on slavery which resulted in his book From Sundown to Sunup: The Making of the Black Community. The book, published in 1972 has been translated into more than 12 other languages. Dr. Rawick also compiled the slave narratives done by the W.P.A. in the late 30s into The American Slave: A Composite Autobiography. Rawick taught History and Sociology at the University of Missouri-St. Louis for the last 11 years of a teaching career which spanned 35 years. He also taught at Washington University, Wayne State University, State University of New York, University of Chicago and others. Dr. Rawick was involved in leftist politics from his earliest days at Oberlin College were he received his bachelor's degree.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Rawick papers include Correspondence, Publications, The writings of Dr. Rawick and many of his contemporaries and students. The collection also contains a large part of the papers of Terrence Powderly an official with the Knights of Labor. The Powderly papers cover a period from 1864 to 1937. Also included in the collection are the transcripts of many of the slave narratives collected by the Writers Project of the W.P.A. in 1936 and 1937. Several of Dr. Rawick's lectures as well as an oral interview with him are on audio tapes in the collection as well as a small number of family photographs (most unidentified).

SERIES DESCRIPTION

Series 1: Personal papers and writings, 1952-1988

These papers are divided into personal papers, writings and correspondence and are arranged chronologically. Includes a typescript version of Eugene Genovese's Roll, Jordan, Roll, sent to Rawick.

Series 2: Others' Writings, 1936-1983

The writings of many of Dr. Rawick's students and contemporaries as well as material sent to Dr. Rawick in hopes of getting his feedback. This series also contains a copy of a civil war diary and a report on a murder case involving slaves in 1841 St. Louis.

Series 3: Publications, 1908-1987

This series is an excellent collection of socialist periodicals and labor periodicals as well as pamphlets on a wide variety of subjects although most are slanted to the left.
Series 4: The Powderly Papers, 1864-1937

Copies of the correspondence of Terrence Powderly a Grand Master Workman with the Knights of Labor. The Material in this series is copied from the collection of the Catholic University of America in Washington D.C. anyone citing this material should credit them and not the Western Historical Manuscript Collection. The Powderly Papers have been left in the order in which Dr. Rawick had them.

Series 5: Slave Narratives, 1936-1938

This series contains copies of many of the transcripts compiled by the W.P.A. during the 1930s they have been ordered according to states where the respondent spent most of their time as slaves and then alphabetically within each state.

Series 6: Audio Tapes

Various recorded lectures, discussions, and oral interviews.

Series 7: Photographs

Many personal photographs, most unidentified.
