INTRODUCTION

The records of the University of Missouri Graduate School contain minutes of graduate committees, 1911-1967, and correspondence of the dean of the Graduate School with administrators, graduate faculty, graduate students, government officials, foundation officers, and alumni, 1930-1967.

DONOR INFORMATION

The records were donated to the University of Missouri by the University of Missouri Graduate School on 7 September 1977 (Accession No. 3737). Two additions were made on 15 March 1968 (Accession No.3748) and 2 January 1969 (Accession No. 3795).

ORGANIZATIONAL SKETCH

The Graduate Department of the University of Missouri was established in 1896. It was administered by the University Council Committee on Higher Degrees. In 1903, the administration was placed in the hands of a Graduate Conference.

The Graduate Department was elevated to school status in 1910, and a Faculty of the Graduate School was appointed the following year. The president appointed five members of this faculty to serve as a Graduate Committee charged with administering the work of the school.

The position of Dean of the Graduate Faculty was created in 1914 to execute the policies established by the faculty and the Graduate Committee. Walter Miller, Professor of Latin, served as the first Graduate Dean. He was succeeded in 1930 by William J. Robbins, Professor of Botany. Henry E. Bent, Associate Professor of Chemistry, became dean in 1938 and retired in 1966. In 1952 a Graduate Council was created as an intermediary body between the faculty and the Educational Policy Committee, as the size of the Graduate Faculty grew too large. By 1961, the duties of the Graduate Dean had become so numerous that the position of Associate Dean was created.

The Graduate Dean was ex officio member of the University Research Council, the Library Committee, the University Studies Committee, and the Committee of Deans.
