INTRODUCTION

Interviews with Missouri legislators, politicians, aides, and other participants in Missouri politics. The records include audio cassettes, compact discs, and transcripts of the interviews.

RESTRICTIONS

Interviews cannot be used until the transcription is released by the interviewee. The audio from interviews labeled with an asterisk (*) are closed and unavailable to the public. Consult with the reference staff on this restriction for more details.

PROJECT SKETCH

The Politics in Missouri Oral History Project is conducted by the State Historical Society of Missouri and is funded by the Missouri General Assembly. Mid- and late-twentieth century Missouri political history remains an under-studied field, and this project addresses this void by making a large new resource available to the public and the scholarly community. Details surrounding historical topics not documented in official or other written sources become the unique domain and value of these interviews.

The project's initial phase seeks to interview as many former legislators, governors, lobbyists, and other political participants as possible, representing the widest variety of personal, professional, and political backgrounds. A later stage of the project will include second sessions with original interviewees as well as expansion into related fields, such as judiciary appointments. After a substantial body of material is gathered from the large current pool of retired political professionals and observers, the project will be ongoing in order to document the careers of each new round of retirees.

The audio cassettes, compact discs, and transcripts of this project become the property of the State Historical Society of Missouri, and are housed in its manuscript division, the Western Historical Manuscript Collection-Columbia.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

The Politics in Missouri Oral History Project Records consist of oral interviews on audio cassettes and compact discs and transcripts of the interviews. Audio cassettes were used until 2007. After this date, the interviews were recorded digitally and transferred to compact disc. The recordings are arranged in the order in which they were created; the transcripts are arranged in the same order. An alphabetical list of the transcripts is included in this inventory and an index to the transcripts follows this inventory.

Because this is an ongoing project the attached lists of recordings and transcripts might not be up-to-date. Consult the reading room staff for more information.
