The State Historical Society of Missouri retains reproduction rights to its microfilm. Microfilm may be used for research following copyright laws. Microfilm reels from the State Historical Society may not be duplicated in any format including, but not limited to digital copies.

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, U.S. Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement.
